Is there a Doctor
in the house?

Students

Each year, medical students in their 4th, 5th, and 6th years come together to put on a show called Clin Revue!

This is a comedic show (hopefully) that has a main storyline that is often a parody of another movie/show, with unrelated short skits dispersed throughout the evening.

Tonight, you will be treated to some of these short skits!

It'd be very helpful if you laughed.
